

Letter from the Editor

By Zack Hosey
Editor-in-Chief

As summer came to an end, The Warcry staff worked hard to start and finish the first issue of the year to be put into circulation. With 18 members, this year's staff is the biggest staff in Warcry history. The new additions include Brandon Witcher, Trevor Spradlin, Emily Rusinyak, Ivy Hyatt, Brett Smith, Caitlin Hosey, Megan Cannon, and Morgan Thompson. I, as Editor-in-Chief, hope to make this the best year for The Warcry. I expect nothing less than excellence from the new members. As with all of the past years of The Warcry, we will cover the sports, clubs, and school activities, in addition to local and national news. However, with the many new members, I hope to expand the amount, and quality of the news.

Another thing I would like to see happen this year is more outside involvement from the students and community in The Warcry. For us to write about what you, as a reader, find interesting, entertaining, and humorous, we need you to contact us and we will cover what you find important. By far, the most important thing I would want for our paper is to challenge our readers by raising the level of debate in our articles. We, as journalists, are not entitled to "sugar-coat" anything. Our job is giving the truth; nothing more, nothing less. So, be expecting to read many articles about touchy subjects such as abortion, the economy, illegal immigration, America's racial divide, welfare, and gay marriage. With all of the new writers, I believe this is possible, and this will be the best year of The Warcry yet.
