

What to do for Spring Break?

By Hannah Burson

What to do for spring break? This is the question that is on everyone's mind when March rolls around. Where to go? With who? People are always going crazy about this one little week out of school, but a lot can happen within that week. Here are some suggestions for spring break:

Beach? - Beaches are fun for whoever goes. Whether it is your family or friends, there are tons of things to do. You can lie out on the beach, soak up the U.V. rays during the day, and enjoy the nightlife when the sun goes down. Also, there are tons of places to eat, new people to meet, and clubs to explore. Beaches scream fun and excitement. There is never a dull moment at the beach. Who does not like a good tan, monster waves, and that ocean smell? If you are not much of a night owl, then you can also rent movies and order in for the night. One wonderful beach option is walking on the beach at night. This will let you meet new people, enjoy the quiet, or walk the beach by moonlight. Some people even build fires on the beach. Now that sounds like a good time. My suggestions are Panama City Beach, FL, Myrtle Beach, SC, and St. Simons Island, GA.

Mountains? - Ah...the mountains. People do not usually favor the mountains as much as beaches during Spring Break. Why not? Like beaches, you can also do tons of things there. You just have to have a little imagination for the mountains, which most people are not willing to try. In the mountains, you can fish, go horseback riding, build a fire and roast marshmallows, hang out and enjoy the fresh air, or just sleep under the stars, which you could have never seen in the city. If you are more of a laid-back person, then the mountains are for you. Mountain vacations are designed to be adventurous and relaxed. Who does not want to grab a cup of coffee around a fire and look at the stars all night? My suggestions are Stone Mountain Park, GA, Pine Mountain, GA, or Nantahala National Park, NC.

Home? - Why not stay at home? Yes, I am aware that Heard County is not the most exciting place in the world, but just think, all of your friends might still be here or at least one of them will be, so why not? If not, then stay at home with your family. I know everyone automatically thinks "lame," but your family might actually surprise you and kind of be halfway decently cool. There are also many towns around to keep you busy, like Newnan for instance. What about LaGrange and Carrollton? All of those towns put together will keep you busy for far more than a week. Many people have friends in different counties so go catch up with them. They do not call it "home sweet home" for nothing.
